

COPYRIGHT AND DMCA POLICY

Effective Date: June 15, 2026

NewsIQ respects intellectual property rights and expects users and third parties to do the same.

NewsIQ is an AI-powered news intelligence platform that aggregates and analyzes information from third-party publishers. NewsIQ does not claim ownership of original news articles or reporting.

1. Copyright Ownership

Ownership of articles, images, trademarks, logos, and other materials remains with their respective owners and publishers.

NewsIQ seeks to:

- Attribute publishers;
 - Provide links to original articles;
 - Respect publisher rights;
 - Operate in accordance with applicable copyright laws and fair use principles.

2. Attribution Practices

NewsIQ endeavors to:

- Identify original publishers;
- Display source names;
- Provide direct links to source websites;
- Encourage users to visit publisher websites.

NewsIQ does not represent third-party content as its own.

3. Reporting Copyright Claims

Copyright owners who believe material available through NewsIQ infringes their rights may submit a notice to:

support@newsiq.ai

A notice should include:

- Identification of the copyrighted work;
 - Description of the allegedly infringing material;
 - URL or location of the material;
 - Contact information;
 - A statement of good-faith belief;
 - A statement made under penalty of perjury;
 - Signature of the copyright owner or authorized representative.

4. Removal of Content

Upon receipt of a valid complaint, NewsIQ may:

- Remove content;
 - Restrict access;
 - Investigate claims;
 - Contact affected parties.

5. Counter-Notice Procedure

Users who believe content was removed incorrectly may submit a counter-notification containing:

- Identification of removed material;
 - Contact information;
 - Statement under penalty of perjury;
 - Statement of good-faith belief;
 - Consent to jurisdiction where legally required.

6. Repeat Infringer Policy

NewsIQ reserves the right to suspend or terminate accounts associated with repeated copyright violations.

7. Fair Use and Fair Dealing

NewsIQ seeks to operate in accordance with principles of:

- Fair use;

- Fair dealing;
- Attribution;
- Source transparency.

Nothing in this Policy transfers ownership of publisher content to NewsIQ.
